

The decision by Sinclair Broadcasting to force the airing of an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election
is a clear example
of the dangers of media consolidation.

When large companies
control the
airwaves, we get more of what's good for the top boss and less of what we need for the common man.

This has never been so blatantly
obvious until this election.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules.

Take them to task
for this issue when it is time to renew their license.

Sincerely,

Eileen Trainor
